ourprofile

We are a digital and branding studio, or a communication agency, depending on how you want to call us - we don't mind it either way. As long as you are looking for a partner in crime, to build something solid and true, to create a story before a brand, we're here to set up an interactive experience that will deliver on results.

ourbackground

In the past seven Ø years Penrose has grown from a business focused on branding and graphic design to a creative agency that provides digital and communication expertise to renowned NGOs and European Institutions, whilst delivering projects for multinational corporations such as Unilever, Essity and WPP/Ogilvy Group.

branding

We help organizations to articulate and communicate their core values by crafting a visual, tangible and strategic system that acts as a bridge between them and their stakeholders.

webdevelopment

We create digital experiences that start from a single, lonely HTML banner, from the website of a small company, to mission critical web applications that manage multi million Euro funding for the European Union, across three continents.

We translate, in a visual language, hypothetical or tiring concepts.

appdevelopment

We bring the power of storytelling, and deliver it in the palm of your user's hand.

uiux

We research, plan, shape and build digital elements that gravitate around an outstanding user experience.

We make the abstract happen.
